2015 Touraine Rosé (Chidaine) Sale Price $12.99 – $132.50 case of twelve

François Chidaine's wines always pack a punch and so does this deep, rich blend of Grolleau and Pinot Noir. Lively raspberry fruit meets brambly, peppery spice.

Savoyard

2015 Savoie Rosé (Carrel) Sale Price $11.99 - $122.30 case of

This Savoyard rosé is a blend of Gamay and Mondeuse. Beautiful floral aromatics, subtle berry fruit, and a crisp, minerally finish round out this fine value.

This blend of Egiodola and Syrah is a spicy, dry rosé with gorgeous strawberry fruit. A great pink for a spicy gumbo.

Chinon

2015 Chinon Rosé (Couly-Dutheil)

Sale Price $14.99 – $152.90 case of twelve

We love Cabernet Franc in all its incarnations, and the Couly-Dutheil Chinon Rosé is a full flavored, structured version with rich, ripe, plummy fruit and a long, dry finish.

Marengo Dolcetto

2014 Dolcetto d'Alba (Marengo) Sale Price $14.99 – $152.90 case of twelve

A good Dolcetto is an exquisitely balanced wine. From its gorgeous violet aromas to its plummy fruit and ripe yet dry tannic finish, Marengo's 2014 is archetypal. This is a perfect red for a fancy pizza/pasta/red-sauced meal.

Loreto and Guido

2013 Nebbiolo d'Alba 'Loreto' (Guidobono) Sale Price $14.99 – $152.90 case

of twelve

Like the Dolcetto above, this Nebbiolo delivers a wonderfully balanced wine, but with a little more Piedmontese volume. The aromas of rose petal are classic Nebbiolo, as are the wild berry fruit and the pronounced tannin. Yet all the strong features are in harmony and will pair well with a braised beef dish alongside some fine gorgonzola.

6 Vineyard Villages

2014 Willamette Valley Pinot Noir 'Villages Cuvée' (St. Innocent)

Sale Price $24.99 – $254.90 case of twelve

St. Innocent has long been one of our favorite Oregon wineries. Their heroic efforts to identify prime single vineyards and bottle them individually helped put Pinot Noir in Oregon on a fast track. You can see how skilled Mark Vlossack and his team are at producing a 'red wine with a white meat and fish profile' with this 'Villages Cuvée' made from a blend of fruit from six vineyards. The 2014 is a real treat. It's an earthy, savory red with zesty forest fruits and a lightly oaky finish. They certainly have achieved their stated purpose for what to serve with this wine, but feel free to experiment.

Hail. Hail Occitania

2013 Limoux 'Mauzac Blanc' (Château Rives Blanques) Sale Price $15.99 – $163.10 case of twelve

Occitania, now known as the Languedoc, still survives in its people and its ancient grape varieties. The not so easy to find Mauzac Blanc captures our fancy with its ability to make wine that smells and tastes like the most perfect apples along with floral blossoms and a spicy finish. This 2013 from Rives Blangues is a rare find and a delight with another old delight – brandade, or any other salt cod or fresh cod dish.

Mas de Provence

2013 Les Baux de Provence Rouge (Mas de la Gourgonnier)

Sale Price $13.99 – $142.70 case of twelve

Long before the natural wine movement gained prominence Mas de Gourgonnier was practicing organic viticulture.

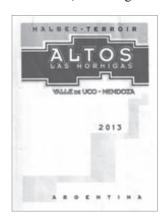

Somehow we have never thought of their wines as radical, just very good wines from a terrific sector of Provence. The 2013 is a notch above at a price below previous vintages. Give this a go with your forays into vegetarian Indian cuisine.

Malbec

2013 Malbec 'Terroir' (Altos las Hormigas) Sale Price $13.99 – $142.70 case of twelve

As one of the best values in Argentine Malbec, we thought that Altos las Hormigas was a one-trick gaucho of a winery. Well, we were wrong. Altos has a portfolio that improves as the grapes and vineyards climb up the foothills of the Andes. Their 'Terroir' bottling has terrific fruit quality, along with an airy delicateness on the palate. The carousel of fruit, minerals, and tannins make this much more interesting than the average Malbec.

Alavesa Blanco

2015 Rioja Blanco (Ostatu) Sale Price $14.99 – $152.90 case of twelve

Rioja is divided into three regions. The Rioja Baja is oriented towards the Mediterranean and is the warmest region. The Rioja Alta has a cooler climate and grows classic age-worthy Tempranillo. The Alavesa is Atlantic oriented and is the region with the coolest, highest elevation. Located in the village of Samaniego in the Alavesa, Ostatu makes a fabulous small-production white Rioja. The blend of Viura (90%) and Malvasia is made great by the astonishing 60- to 70-year age of the vine.

This super dry white is intense in aroma and minerals, with a long, full-throated finish. Have this with hake, clams, parsley, and tons of garlic.

Sonoma Coast

2014 Sonoma Coast Chardonnay (Chalk Hill) Sale Price $17.99 – $183.50 case of twelve

The search for cooler climate vineyards in California has led growers and vintners to the Sonoma Coast, where the Pacific Ocean sends its marine layer of fog to cool the vines every morning. This results in Chardonnay of great balance and crispness along with ripe California fruit. Chalk Hill's interior Sonoma Chardonnay has always been an excellent example of the buttery side of California Chardonnay, so it was a pleasant surprise when we tasted their 2014

Sonoma Coast Chardonnay. Here was a breezy freshness along with the pear-scented fruit, and a fine zesty finish. Have this with a simple sautéed sole and some steamed chard.
